To whom it may concern,

If the moratorium on GM canola ends it will mean an enormous economic loss for Australia's sustainable organic agriculture due to GM contamination. This will go straight to New Zealand and any other country willing to "cash in on" the organic food market.

I have heard that your enquiry will not consider human health and safety and the environment. This really surprises me. These are the two most important factors to consider. I for one do not want to eat GM food.

We need to change farming practices, not, genetically modify plants.

Yours sincerely,

Christine Hooper
