

Dr ANDRE ZERGER

Andre Zerger is a Research Scientist with CSIRO's Sustainable Ecosystems Agricultural Landscapes Program. He has a broad research interest in applying geospatial technologies to natural resource management challenges and spatial decision support. His current research portfolio centres on developing methods for assessing biodiversity benefits from vegetation enhancement activities, vegetation mapping & regional scale vegetation condition modelling.

